YoungArts at The Fountainhead Residency

YoungArts and The Fountainhead have partnered to offer a month-long residency to one YoungArts Visual Arts alumnus/a at The Fountainhead, located in the heart of Miami’s cultural community. The residency will take place within The Fountainhead studios and residences in Miami, Florida.

The Fountainhead seeks an outgoing, ambitious, open-minded artist at an inflection point in their career, excited to engage and connect with other artists and art professionals while delving into their own practice. Fountainhead artists-in-residence are invited without a predefined expectation of work to be completed. The main objective is for artists to invest in themselves and their practice. The Fountainhead will host several events to introduce the artist and their work to the Miami arts community including a Welcome Cocktail with donors; MEET, a monthly gathering of artists to share a meal and foster relationships, Artists Presentations to collectors and curators and an Open House, open to the public at the end of the residency.

Artists will share a home with two other artists that are selected by Fountainhead’s curatorial panel. Each artist has their own bedroom and a bathroom shared with one other person. There are a number of workspaces including a converted garage studio, semi-private studios within the home and an off-site warehouse studio within The Fountainhead Studios. The Fountainhead provides roundtrip airfare, living and working accommodations and a $1,000 stipend.

Eligibility and requirements
Must be over 21 years old and currently working in the visual arts, and complete application as set by The Fountainhead. Please consult youngartspost.org for dates and application details.
